

Environment Health & Safety Policy

“We at Frauscher are committed to carry out all work activities safely, and with all possible measures taken to protect the environment, eliminate or at least minimize risks to the health and safety of our employees or others who may be affected by our operations.”

The above policy is implemented through -

- Complying with applicable Statutory, Regulatory, Corporate & other relevant EHS requirements.
- Commitment to minimize negative environmental impacts by promoting efficient use of materials and energy, and the use of environmentally safe substances.
- Commitment to minimize risks by identifying, assessing and controlling EHS hazards by Safety Audits and actions.
- Protecting the health and safety of employees, contractors, visitors and promote suppliers to adopt the principles of this policy.
- Continual improvement of EHS performance of the Organization.
- Promoting awareness of EHS by providing adequate awareness and training.
- Promoting Environmental Sustainability and proactive Health and Safety measures as our Organizational culture.

Protection of the environment, as well as health and safety is the responsibility of everyone in the organization, not just those with defined EHS duties.
